LIST #89

Welcome to List #89.

WEB SITE--

Coming up for Fall, For the token collector, things have changed a bit---Baldwin Basement Sale # III, from last October, was their last sale as an auction company!! I was there, and quite successful in bidding, but this fall is a question mark.

In June, just past, Baldwin of St. James held an auction with 190 or so lots, many singles but also many small group lots, and the most interesting part of all of that is that they were all part of what they obtained on consignment from Baldwin's!! Thus, the June sale could be considered Baldwin Basement Sale #IV!!! If all items being sold came from the basement vaults at Baldwins the October sale is thus, sort of, Baldwin Basement Sale #V!! The June sale contained much better material, but also had some that was close, but no cigar---not a scratch and dent sale, but some were spotted or had other problems. All in all, a worthwhile group, I did bid in it but had not previewed personally as I like to do, and this group were a shade lesser in quality than the ones seen in the first three sales. Worthy of a personal assessment as some very nice things were in the June sale, and suspect there will be some of the same in October. The date for the October sale is Wednesday 4 October.

The DNW token auction---- yes, there will be one, Peter Preston Morley says that there will be some pieces from a collection, not a large one but worth looking at, and other pieces from various properties. This auction will be on Tuesday, 3 October. See the sale on line.

And, of course, if you need a new D&H, do not forget that they are available now, the price $125 plus $10 for shipping, See page TWELVE for ordering and shipping information. Available from yours truly in the USA, and from Alan Judd in the UK, this at 88 pounds.

As to this list, a couple of second chances, and some other material. You will find good things as usual----I shall be at the same old stand for a little while, so the lists will keep on coming. Tim Rollins will be taking over the 18th Century soon, but I will still be selling items that are in my collection, some of it very special indeed. Enjoy the list----

18th CENTURY TOKENS AS CATALOGUED BY DALTON AND HAMER BEDFORDSHIRE & DEVONSHIRE, SEE BELOW PAGE TWO

PUDDINGTON Bedfordshire 5, or Devonshire 13. 1797.

Bust W. Waller//Ship. This token designated by D&H as being from Bedfordshire, but our own Michael Dickinson found that Waller was from Puddington, Devonshire. Now Devonshire 13.

On this token Waller is noted as having no, or very little, hair detail which is normal!! The flan has a few small flaws in it that appear natural, the lettering around is nearly new, so the piece is probably far closer to UNC than to VF, I am calling it EF+. Handled, though, a few minor marks, but the flan is remarkably clear. The reverse, with the ship, is weak in the very center, but not too much. These tokens were once thought to be rarer than we think today, but still it is RR. Might be 15 known now. Michael Dickinson says he has traced 14 examples, and most have little, or no, hair detail. Michael Dickinson's excellent article on this token is to be found in CTCC Journal #50. Sell $995.

SET----The Noble Catalogues, Conder Tokens, 1998, British Tickets and Passes, 1999, and Communion Tokens, 2000. These three sales were of all of the tokens and other material collected by Jim Noble. They all have a PRL, and are still the largest sale of this sort of material anywhere. The set, as new, $160. Bargain. A second set of these, a veritable feast of each type of tokens, and fascinating reading. Used, all three $120. Davenport, John S----German Crowns and Talers, 1700-1800--1900---Davenport has written the bible for this series, With a short description of each coin, and a large photo of it next to that description. Wonderful, and a wonderful series. Two books on the same subject, for coins after 1800, all the way to 1951. In other words, the pair, two books that can fascinate the reader for hours, and even make him decide to collect a coin or two, as it did me. As I am retiring, books that I use very little now will be up for sale, this two volume set of Davenport one I looked for diligently for a couple years, you have a chance now, the pair-as new $45. Plus post. Medaillen Plaketten Abzeichen der Deutches Luftfhart. By Hans Kaiser, 1998, over 600 pages, large format, with literally thousands of listings, most of them with photos of the medal, plaque, or other item, all pertaining to the world of flight, airships, balloons, Zepplins, all sorts of airplane from the earliest date for those, gliders, jets, all of them in one book. If you need to know something about an airship of any kind, this is your book It is in German, but though I do not speak it I can tell fairly well what they are saying, and if I cannot I type it into the computer, and it tells me. I am not selling my copy, I bought a spare, and this is it. New—w

These books were never for sale at book sellers, they were privately imported and sold by Doug Thurber. Of course, I also like any book that talks about Fharts, which I found out meant "trip" when I was driving in Germany. Thus "Luftfhart" is German for "airship"---and this book has them all. Superb!!

On the subject, but have none for sale, there is a marvelous writer of humor named Bill Bryson. I have a few of his books, and will have to get them all, I think. He is American, but lived in Yorkshire for 20 years, then came back to America. His books on both England and America poke fun at each. Find them and laugh---www.billbrysonbooks.com His insight into life in both England and the USA is wonderful. Bill.

case is inscribed "British Victories"----$525.

Geroge III---Saved from attempted Assasination 1800. BZ, 50mm, by Kuchler. Soho mint-----Bust George III//All seeing eye over flame, no marks, some original luster, a very nice example. $265.

Queen Victoria—Coronation medal—45mm gilt bronze, 1838. Bust Victoria//View of the Coronation at Westminster. Luster in the devices, one tiny mark on Victoria's cheek, otherwise as made. EF $145.

George VI and Queen Elizabeth, coronation—51mm bronze medal, matte finish, 1937. Bust of the King and Queen/View of Westminster, helmed Britannia hold out coronation wreath. As made in original box, with Coronation 1937 on the lid. Medal as new, box VF. $120.

Wellington Box Medal---Round metal box, 48mm, and 12mm thick. Lid with bust of Wellington, the bottom of the box with a laudatory 11 line history of Wellington's accomplishments. Inside the box, paper roundels with information on 26 battles in Spain and France, beginning with the taking of Talavera de la Reina in 1809, and culminating with the victory at the battle of Waterloo in 1815. All of the roundels are present, the two that were fixed to the lid at bottom are loose, but overall they are VF or better. The box is shy of one or two tiny marks of being EF, overall a very nice complete set. These are becoming rare. Still at my old price, $440. Wellington Box Medal----tall, and round. 39mm tall, and 22mm in diameter. The metal box contains 13 medalets, angel on one side, the name of the town and date of battle on the other. This is known as the "short set", there is also a larger one with 26 medalets. Any of these are rare, especially if complete to what it should be, and this is, down to the elusive and often missing Waterloo medalet. Small medalets, most EF or better, a couple not, the box EF. A rare and nice collectible one that has been in my collection. Oh, the outside of the Transportation Token---This one is fairly early, if the box tells any tale- The box is 42mm high, and 28mm in circumference at the lid----The lid, with some wear, is engraved "A Youth I am and / Love afraid, I will in//dismal hills be Laid / in witch (sic) time I mean / to Grave God's Blessing // for my soul to save". The lid is made from a token that has been planed off, but there are denticles and one ornament that could be used to discover it. The base is made of a token as well, inside, at the bottom, one sees John Howard, and on the outside bottom, is the woman, boy, key, and prison, "Remember the debtors is Goal". Excellent condition, but the engraving and token is worn. The token (A CONDER TOKEN) being from the 1790's period (See D&H Somerset 36), the piece is early for prisoner transport to Australia. More information to any buyer. $450.

The Reform Bill----this is a WM, 47mm medal,1832-- and not the usual one with the copy of the bill itself on it, but a interesting look at what the people wanted---The obverse has a winged figure trampling on three recumbent corpses, legend is "THEY TRAFFIC'D IN THE PEOPLE'S RIGHTS---BROUGHMONGERS DEFEATED BY LIBERTY///reverse, 8 lines, on passing the bill. This medal (BHM 1605) always found pierced for suspension, this one has no pesting and no wear, minor marks, luster, about EF. Very rare. $155.

Nettie Pot----Brass pot made to hold potpourri, or other good smelling things, ---small, for a woman to carry with her to mask odors ----as few bathed regularly, some of them did have odors!! Thomason's manufactory, Birmingham, made a vast array of medals---I have some other pieces by him on this list----this little brass pot has a open grid on the lid, which comes off to put in the sachet, the base has a view of the Manufactory, something seldom seen. It is unused, as new, and dates from around 1820. It is round, 24mm. and 14mm high. The only one I have ever seen for sale, not a usual item, selling it for less than I paid at $250.

The Crystal Palace---White metal, 51mm, 1851. Bust of Prince Albert//View of the Crystal Palace. This piece with minor marks, around 70% bright luster, a fine example at a reasonable price. EF, $89.

London Bridge opening----1 August 1831. Bronze, 51mm. Bust of king William IIII//View of the new bridge. Rare like this, fading red to brown prooflike UNC, just a superb example. Yours at $195.

Lafayette----Well, the SHIP Lafayette. The medal is as new, bronze, 68mm, obverse with the bust of Laffayette, very well accomplished, the reverse a fine example of the motor ship Lafayette, "Commemorating the entry into service of the motorship Lafayette, May, 1930". An apparent flaw in the medal has been filed off, second example I have seen with this done to it, so have to think it is as made. Filing at the bottom of the bust, and not all that noticeable. But, as new. Really a great piece, super bust of Lafayette, far from common, $245

Fun Stuff----Continued PAGE ELEVEN

PEACE OF GHENT—This treaty signed in Belgium December 24, 1814, thus ending the war of 1812 between England and the USA. Though they made a fair number of these medals, which feature a woman standing on a globe, with a peace wreath in hand, the legend "On earth, peace, good will to men", and the reverse in nine lines inside a wreath pertaining to the treaty between England and the USA. It is the official medal for the ending of a rather strange war, one that no one seemed to want. The medals are 43mm, with the medal books listing them in white metal only. It is found that a few of them were struck on cast bronze planchets at that time as well, the number unknown but they are very rare. This is one of those cast bronze pieces, with the medal having a matte appearance. No real problems, a nice casting, easily EF, Will sell at $550. William Pitt the Younger----A glass seal, in the original bronze bezel, circa 1800—The glass seal in the form of Pitt's bust------from my collection, will sell this one in superb condition for $325. Well under market.

Bronze Seal---matrix engraved with a horse and rider----the handle of the seal with views of the Crystal Palace. This item was sold in the Crystal Palace. 1851. Underpriced today at $250.

Britain's Hope box---from my personal collection---the box 22mm round and 8mm high, "The Queen, Prince Albert, and Britain's Hope"---bottom of box, in a wreath, a shield with the Royal holdings, England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales. This box the best I have seen, no problems, no wear, and full luster on the gilt surfaces. Inside the box, three white metal medals, one of Queen Victoria, the reverse the Brirish Lion with Britannia, next Prince Albert, the reverse with a steam train, the third with vignettes of The Prince and Princess of Wales, and four other children. Another, but no vignette, mentioned on the reverse that contains the names of all of the children and their birth dates. These, especially the Prince and Princess of Wales, were "Britian's Hope". The medals inside the box are as new. If not the finest set known, certainly tied for that. $245.

William Till---the maker of the Bucks Slough tokens, this is his private token, used for advertising. His Arms//Dealer in Coins, etc. 7 Great Russell Street, 1834. A nice UNC, $55. A superb 80% red token, prooflike in places, a good match for the Buckinghamshire tokens in your collection at $75.

Germany----Medals by Karl Goetz.

"Born in War", nice EF $195 K187—57.5mm Bz. Germany offers peace---Hand reaching for a dove// Entente powers putting the dove back into the cage---(refusal of peace offer by the Allies)---1916. RARE, as made, $550.

Sinking of the Lusitania, 1915----This a Goetz medal, but is the British copy – Iron, 56mm. obverse, Death selling tickets to the voyage//reverse, the Lusitania sinking. Originals are rare, this as made $85.

Opening of the Mersey Tunnel, Liverpool. 1934. Black Onyx, 128 X 77mm, the words Mersey Tunnel and 1934 appearing in a clear layer over the onyx. Interesting to Liverpudlians and to Beatle's fans. EF $75.

Glass Seller's Guild, a wonderful 49mm Silver medal, gilt, Arms of the guild on the obverse very ornate---the reverse with a wreath, but unawarded. Hanger on the reverse as well. Original box, both as made. Guild formed in 1864, the medal likely later, possibly as late as 1910. Superb die work, $185.

A Nest of Weights, 1750----an iron "pot" with a lid and a latch, with 5 matching weights in the pot, all nesting together. The pot, and the three largest nesting weights, are original to the pot, the smaller two are a slightly different color though they are correct to size and fit. A very interesting set, quite unusual to see these days, I have used it as one subject of talks at coin clubs. Your turn. The set, complete, $295. RARE.

Frederick, Prince of Wales ---- (George III), Bust to Right—Governor of the Fisheries society.--- The reverse With a ship, and men mending nets, "Free Britt Fishery by a society established" 1750. Around, "For the advantage of Great Britain"---40mm bronze, Eimer 629. This piece fully UNC, red in the devices, no marks or stains, hard to find a better, and as such, under Eimer, underpriced to boot. Yours $185.

Admiral Nelson---a 32mm halfpenny size medal---bronze---Bust Nelson to Left, "Portsmouth Navy Week" on the obverse, reverse with a ship, H. M. S. Victory. Undated, possibly to use year to year, but seems of early 19th Century style---this holed for suspension, a very nice medal not seen that often. Some fading red, EF+ $85. Sentimental Magazine---two, one is Cromwell, 1658 (1773, dark medal, AU at least, nice $110. The second one is Lord Chatham (William Pitt the Elder, ) this one VF, $45.
